Gospel Lighthouse still working on school concept

The possibility that the Full Gospel Lighthouse Pentecostal church will establish an alternate school in Haliburton is becoming more of a reality.

As plans now stand, the alternate school would begin classes in September 1981, Mervin Kurtz, pastor of the Haliburton church, said in an interview Friday.

Since the idea surfaced, earlier this year, Kurtz has attended a one-week training course in Texas and a rally in Toronto this fall to learn more about the alternate schools.

The proposed school would be set up according to the Accelerated Christian Education program which has some 24 schools in Ontario and 141 across the country.

The school, which would be located in the Full Gospel Lighthouse in the village, would combine religious and academic studies, Kurtz said.

While Kurtz would act as pastor principal he said the Sale of store in Minden Village may lead to mall

The building which houses Highlands Plumbing on Minden's main street has been "conditionally sold" to a King City man, and could be torn down to make way for the construction of a small shopping plaza.

Real estate company owner Gary Vasey said from his Toronto office Tuesday that a conditional offer by Albert Loucks to purchase the building has been extended for one month to allow soils tests and other engineering studies to be completed.

The outcome of the tests is expected to determine whether or not the building is sold and torn down to make way for a small complex of stores.

"It is not a bona fide deal yet," Vasey stressed, but he added that so far, "it looks good."

Although he could not confirm what would happen to the building, "I assume" a small mall will go in if the sale is finalized, Vasey said.

Jack Hewson, owner of Highlands Plumbing, said he had received notification that his lease on the building would be terminated, and that he would have to move from it.

Hewson said he is putting up a building beside the IGA store to house his business.

Albert Loucks could not be reached for comment Tuesday.

them. Santa presented each student with a gift in appreciation of a birthday cake he received in June. All of the younger children enjoyed the rare autumn visit.

'We've changed the climate for economic development'

EDC chairman still optimistic

by Sue Cooper

The wheels of development are slow moving but that doesn't seem to have affected the optimistic outlook the chairman of the Haliburton County Economic Development Commission has for the future.

In an interview last Friday Glen Hodgson revealed what the commission has been doing behind the scenes for the past 18 months. He regards those months as being successful with the county's economic future seemingly moving in a positive direction now.

"We think we've changed the climate for economic development (in the county) ... Yes, we have been successful," Hodgson said.

In the development process it is sometimes difficult to tell if any headway is being made since the period of time that elapses between the conception of an idea and the creation of a product is usually lengthy.

"It's not a short term effort," Hodgson emphasized. The EDC has approached the development process systematically, and has followed steps recommended by the provincial government. This summer, students prepared a community profile of each individual municipality as well as a complete profile for the county. The profile lists all the businesses and services available in the county and their locations.

Hodgson praised the profile as being very helpful, saying it will be a boon when approaching potential industrial developers.

"We could only guess before... now when we approach a company we'll know what we have to offer."

Other background information which is needed for attracting development is now being compiled by consulting firms for the EDC.

One major feasibility study which is now underway and is expected to be completed in early November, investigates the possibilities of establishing a large scale commercial maple syrup producing operation in the county.

According to Hodgson, the consultants, Clarkson Gordon, have been working with commission members John Hogg and Murray Fearney as well as local syrup producer to discover if the project would be feasible.

The proposal was first brought to the commission by Charles Tyler, of Donald, at public meeting a year and a half ago.

Although Hogg said Friday that a decision on the viability of the project cannot be made until the feasibility study is

Winter 'critical' outgoing president says Chamber progressing but still 'far from satisfied'

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce believes it is making progress on programs to promote tourism and attract industry to Haliburton County, but remains "far from satisfied" with the results so far.

Speaking at the Chamber's annual meeting last Wednesday, outgoing president John Hogg said the Chamber embarked on two year programs last year concentrating on recreation and industrial development, and that while the organization is generally "pleased with the progress", improvements can still be made.

On the positive side, Hogg pointed in particular to the steps taken by the Economic Development Commission, which has been working to attract industry to the area, and which recently completed community profiles to supply key information to businesses which might be considering locating in the county.

Two feasibility studies, one for a tourist train and the other for a central maple syrup evaporator plant are also underway, and the commission, along with members of county council, continues to press for DREE funding for the area.

On the matter of promoting tourism in the Highlands, the outgoing president said the group was not completely satisfied with last year's program, but that it has undertaken a more ambitious scheme this year involving the printing of 25,000 brochures for distribution outside the county, as well as lure books, winter books and directories.

Hogg said the area will face increasing competition for tourist dollars in the near future, and predicted the upcoming winter will be a "critical" one for many county businesses as inflation and recession depress the economy.

In conclusion, the outgoing president noted that there is often a tendency to take things too seriously and that there should be room to have a little bit of fun in working to improve the area.

Both Hogg and Chamber manager Bob Stinson were careful to avoid making more than a passing reference to what was termed the "recent misunderstanding" between county council and the chamber over a questionnaire for candidates in the upcoming election.

But the Chamber manager did use the opportunity to reminisce about his five years on the job noting that the organization has "come a long way" in that time, with more staff, a larger budget, and more ambitious programs.

He concluded his remarks by urging business people and councils not to cut back on their support for the Chamber because there is "so much to be done by so few, and with so little money."

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Highlander of the Year award. This year's winner was Art Ward, owner of Wig-a-mog Inn, and chairman of Tourism Ontario. A

Should be 'an improvement' Jim McLean says

New president wants results

The incoming president of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has vowed to get the newly elected board of directors working on a number of projects as soon as possible.

In an interview Tuesday, Jim McLean said it was too early to outline any specific changes or programs he would like to see implemented but commented, "I intend to whip it up a bit, win or lose."

"I think there should be, let's say, an improvement rather than a change. I'm looking for results. Results, after all, are what count."

Asked if the new board, which was to hold its first meeting, Tuesday night, would come up with a set of guidelines for chamber manager Bob Stinson to follow, McLean replied that "a board of directors is supposed to direct, and I think the first thing is to get them all to pull together to understand that."

"This doesn't mean they have to get in there, roll up their sleeves and dot the i's, but they've got to know what to expect out of the resources available. This includes manpower and paper power and money."

On the question of what he will do if there are board members who are not pulling their weight, the incoming president replied: "Well, let's put it this way: we had six more people running for slots this year than there were slots, and as far as I can make out they're still kind of keen (the ones who didn't make it) and if somebody is holding down a position, I think they should make it their business to do a job on it."

"Constitutionally, I think we can go back to the others. I think there are limits on

Parent organization seeks involvement in education

by Sue Cooper

A meeting to discuss the possibility of forming a parent group to be involved with education in Haliburton County will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Organizer Belinda Brown said Tuesday the meeting has been set up to inform people of the possibilities of a concerned parents group.

At the meeting Mario Godlewski, vice-president of the Toronto Teachers Federation, and Merylie Houston, chairman of the Toronto East community council, will be speaking on organizing a group and how it might work within the community.

Brown said the type of group the speakers would be advocating is different from the traditional Parent Teachers Association (PTA). This association would deal with education across the county as it makes "more sense" in our area, Brown said.

The idea of forming an association apparently was given impetus by the fact there has not been any similar organization in the county for nearly 25 years, Brown explained.

She is hoping both area teachers and the board of education will co-operate with the association.

"I hope they say: 'It's good to have this.'"

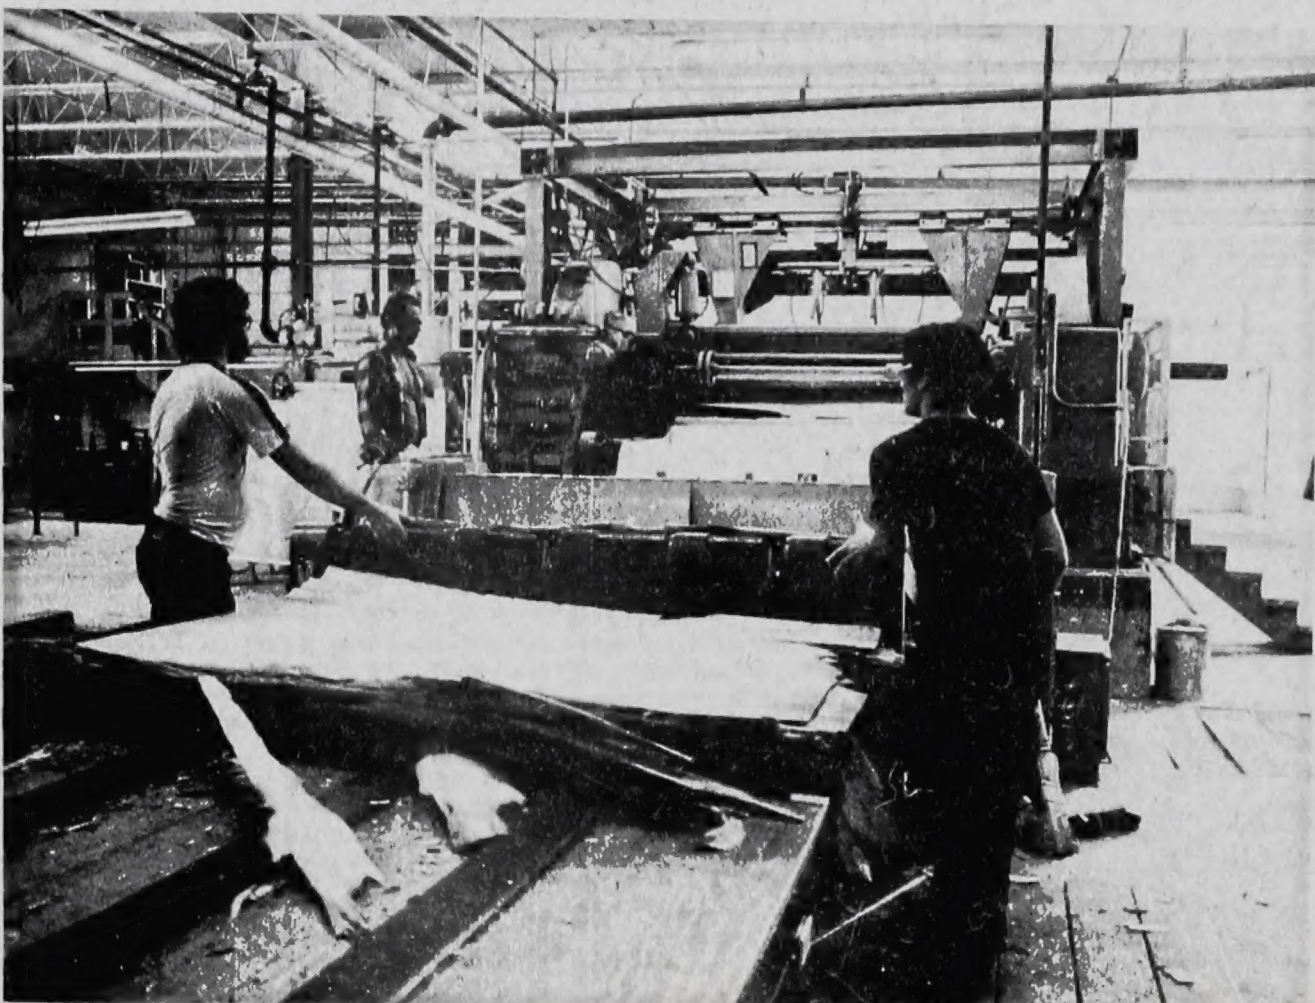

If the association is formed it is not expected to be a negative group, Brown said. Plans call for it to act as a means of communicating with the board of education and area teachers in an organized and consolidated manner.

"There's no regular format for communication, now," Brown pointed out.

She emphasized that it was not the board's responsibility to ensure that all board decisions were made known to parents, but rather the parents' responsibility to be

Wilberforce Veneer opens $1 million plant

Heart of the new plant

Furniture components to come from old plant soon

More than a year of planning and construction were capped last Wednesday by the official opening of the new Wilberforce Veneer and Lumber Company mill.

On hand for the ceremonies were close to 200 officials and guests, including company president Joseph Klasner, vice president Ted Samuels, project coordinator Bruce Gibbs, manager Floyd Tighe, MPP John Eakins, Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman, Chamber of Commerce manager Bob Stinson, Economic Development Commission chairman Glen Hodgson and commission members, reeves and councillors from a number of county municipalities, officials from the Ministry of Natural Resources, and representatives of several forest based companies and organizations.

Harold Herlihy, former owner and manager of the company, cut the ribbon to officially open the new facility.

Built at an estimated cost of $1 million, the 30,000 square foot plant houses a Streckert lathe charger which improves the yield of veneer from each log, and a Streckert computer programmed clipping line. A Ruckle cross-feed splicer with trim saws and guillotine provide cut-to-size veneer.

At present, the company employs 60 people, and no new employees have been hired despite the expansion. But company manager Floyd Tighe said Tuesday that an expanded workforce will

Anson, Hindon, Minden council meets

At a meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council last Tuesday, the following matters were considered:

Council had no objections to a minor variance application made by Gloria Lemieux to construct an addition to her residence in Lot 2, Concession A, Township of Anson, 53 feet from the normal high water mark.

Severance application #H255/80 was approved on the following conditions: (a) The municipality be granted a deed to 33 feet from the centre line of the roadway on the application. (b) The property being added to the Blairhampton Golf Course shall be rezoned to R.C.A.

Council concurred with W. Perry's proposal to construct a pond on his property in Lot 2, Concession 5, Township of Minden.

Werner Titzman was present regarding a retaining wall and a minor variance application.

Council agreed with W. Titzman's proposal to construct a retaining wall providing that the logs are treated and tied in properly and backfilled with clean rock.

Council agreed with the minor variance application submitted by W. Titzman to construct an addition to his cottage on Lot 14, Concession 8, Township of Minden providing that the municipality be granted a quit claim deed to that portion of property on the north west side of the Horseshoe Lake Road for future road widening purposes, and the resolution passed on September 24 was rescinded.

A. Brubaker representing the Minden and District Horticultural Society attended council to discuss the following: turn-around fronting Laurdie Cabins; repairs required to stone wall on north side of Gull River; street-lighting on main street; using hanging baskets for possible Christmas decorations; and the status of the property to be used for a flower bed in Ingoldsbay.

H. Hunting was present regarding acquisition of Block A, Plan 357 and the possibility of severing the block into two separate parcels. Council agreed pursuant to a letter from H. C.

Bishop, O.L.S., which confirmed that the lot had sufficient frontage for two lots.

J. Burns attended council to discuss the status of the road serving his subdivision in Lot 10, Concession A, Township of Anson. Council advised that the road could not be accepted until the terms of the subdivision agreement had been fulfilled but M.T.C. would be contacted in the interim.

past president of the Haliburton Rotary Club, Ward received the honour for his efforts both in public and behind the scenes for the betterment of the community and tourism opportunities throughout the county.

Also honoured at the annual meeting was Economic Development Commission chairman Glen Hodgson, who was presented with an honorary membership for his work on the commission.

The evening concluded with the election of a new slate of directors.

Jim McLean, owner of Air Haliburton, will replace Hogg as president for the upcoming year.

Barb Bolin, coordinator of Sir Sandford Fleming College's programs in Haliburton, Rhonda Elstone, partner in G. Elstone Construction Ltd., Dave Chatfield, media freelancer, James Orr, owner of Sir Sam's Inn, and Keith Stephenson, owner of Haliburton Highlands golf club, were returned to the board.

Newcomers who will serve one-year terms include, Curtis Eastmure, Innkeeper at Maple Sands resort, Shawn Hagerman, Mutual Life insurance agent, Barry Shaw, owner of Sunny Rock Lodge, Don Blakey, owner of Carnarvon Farmers Market, Ken Langdon, owner of Black's Hardware in Haliburton, and Dave Willis, owner of the Rockcliffe Hotel in Minden.

Art Ward, right, owner of Wig-a-mog Inn, chairman of Tourism Ontario and one of the county's most active citizens was named Highlander of the Year at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday. Presenting the award on behalf of the Chamber is Gerry Dawson.

say. This project is being undertaken with the co-operation of Victoria County and Lindsay councils, who are also helping to foot the consultants' bill.

The report is not expected in the immediate future since the study has just gotten underway.

If either one, or both, of these proposals prove to be worthy of future consideration the EDC will be offering any type of assistance in their power to help developers get the projects moving, Hodgson said.

Although the EDC may be able to assist in a number of ways, Hodgson said initially it would assist developers in approaching municipal councils as well as government agencies to get the development underway.

This is an area the commission has been busy trying to expand. It has submitted presentations regarding Department of Regional Economic Expansion (DREE) funding which county council has been pushing for. The guidelines are set up for a review and Hodgson says the commission is hopeful the county will become eligible for the program since it would then have the same opportunities for enticing developers to locate here, as other neighbouring areas.

Another asset which the commission hopes will stay in Haliburton County is the Canadian National Railway line. A hearing on CN's application to abandon the line was held last month, and a decision is not expected for several months. The commission, along with many other interested businesses and individuals, presented a brief at the hearing to help fight the abandonment.

In a bid to help make the railroad a more viable operation the EDC is attempting to assist a granular stone operation in Somerville Township, just south of the county line. Although the industry is not located in the county, Hodgson said the commission felt there would be a beneficial spin-off for the area. He said if the project goes well it might provide jobs for county residents and give business to the rail line.

While trying to better the county's economic condition the commission usually helps in other areas as well, Hodgson said. He cited its attempts to have a year round information booth on highway 401 near Bowmanville to direct people off the highway to Haliburton County. This booth would not only benefit this area but with the new Canada Wonderland being constructed at Maple, Hodgson felt this area might be able to take advantage of a previously untapped tourist resource.

These are just some of the programs the EDC has been involved in. As with any other type of development organization leads are always followed but don't necessarily turn into anything worthwhile.

However, after many months and even years of work, sometimes the fruits of economic commissions' work do show. That happened last week in Wilberforce when the Wilberforce Veneer officially opened its new plant.

The opening was a moment of success for the previous county economic commission which worked extremely hard to help the project on its way, Hodgson said, adding it was unfortunate that no reference was made to the commission's work in the opening ceremony speeches.

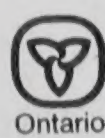

Most of the projects which the commission is studying will involve a "long drawn out effort" before anything is formalized, Hodgson said.

Blanket closure too costly, Stanhope told

A blanket by-law to stop up and close all existing original road allowances abutting lakeshores in Stanhope Township might be financially prohibitive, according to a representative of the Ministry of Housing.

Following a suggestion from the Maple Lake property owners association for the blanket policy, council wrote to the ministry asking for its comments on the matter.

In a return letter, G. W. Farrow, executive director of the plans administration division, stated that all allowances would have to be surveyed and a legal description prepared before the by-law could be passed.

"It would seem that given the amount of original shore allowances in your township, the necessary survey work to be carried out all at one time may be financially prohibitive," Farrow states in his letter.

He advised council that the most important responsibility would be to ensure that no one was "deprived of an access to a body of water or to his/her property."

Advertisements, which are mandatory in all road closings would have to stipulate that the property was to be sold after closure or the entire process would have to be completely redone, Farrow said.

In response to the Stanhope clerk's question whether the housing ministry would consider approving the blanket by-law, Farrow said the ministry would consider it after the necessary advertisements and postings regarding the closures had taken place.

Council decided at its regular meeting last Wednesday to send a copy of the ministry's letter to the Maple Lake association and then wait for absenteeism and so on, which can be invoked if necessary."

One of the new board's main priorities is expected to be the creation of a marketing plan before county council is approached for a 1981 grant early in the new year.

McLean said that for the past two years, the Chamber has been laying out a scheme for marketing the Highlands before each tourist season.

At the moment the plan is "pretty elementary," McLean commented. "Hopefully, it will improve each year as a plan and then the application will improve too."

Overall, the new president appears ready to press for action from his board of directors.

"There's got to be some more 'gung ho' than there is (at the moment)," McLean said. "I know some things that have to be done and I think tonight (Tuesday, at the first meeting of the new board) we'll start seeing how fast they get done."

Improve forests

The opening of the new Wilberforce Veneer and Lumber Company plant last Wednesday was a significant event in the life of that small community. Since its formation in 1937, the company has continued to grow, and today, it provides jobs for 60 people, the majority of whom live nearby. But the fact that an estimated $1 million dollars was spent to expand the company's operations has broader implications. It indicates a faith on the part of the company in the area's ability to supply high quality veneer logs for many years to come, and provides support for those who argue that the county's forests, not its lakes, are its biggest asset.

For the past two years, members of county council, led by Stanhope deputy reeve Elgin Stouffer and Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve Sinc Nesbitt, have sought to draw attention to the fact that the value of wood and wood products produced in the county is equal to or greater than the value of the tourist industry. Criticizing the Ministry of Natural Resources for not embarking on full scale forest management programs, the two have pressed for more action in the matter. The plea has so far gone unheeded, but the opening of the new veneer plant makes it clear that the development potential of a properly managed forest resource should not be ignored. For while tourism contributes substantially to the county's economic well being, increased utilization of the forests in a controlled and intelligent way could do much to make local communities stronger.

That fact has been recognized by the public through the Economic Development Commission. In time, the commission hopes it can play a role in attracting clean, light industry to the area, and forests will no doubt be at the centre of that industry.

The opening of the new Wilberforce Veneer plant proves that the area has not been exploited to the fullest. Members of county council and the Economic Development Commission deserve support in their efforts to draw attention to local forests. Without forests there would be at least 60 fewer jobs in Wilberforce, and hundreds fewer around the county. And without a long-term program to improve the quality and quantity of available wood, there is little hope that other companies will find reason to invest in the community the way Wilberforce Veneer and Lumber Company did.

A role to play

The fact that an initial meeting for a new kind of parent organization will be held next Wednesday should arouse the interest of everyone concerned about education. Organizers hope the formation of such a body would prove to be a positive step, facilitating improved communication between the board of education and the public it represents. And if a parent organization can do just that, it will be a welcome addition to the community. If it is to be both positive and effective, however, it must represent the feelings of the majority of parents. And that will only happen if a majority of parents are willing to participate.

In the absence of a parent organization, school board trustees must act on their own conscience, speaking for the people who elected them without regular input from those people. True, parents often bring their concerns to trustees, who can relay them to the whole board, but for the most part, the public are silent about their attitudes to the educational system for the two years that elapse between municipal elections. Faced with the pressure of rising education costs and the input of a vocal, but perhaps not always representative minority, trustees must make decisions which will effect the quality and variety of education across the county.

A parent organization cannot usurp the board's power to make difficult and occasionally unpopular decisions. But it can give trustees a clearer idea of what the people want to see happen within the school system. And if it can do so effectively, the proposed organization will have a valuable role to play.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

Your headline "County expropriating land it owns" should certainly set the taxpayers of this county wondering what is happening. If county owns the land there is no need to expropriate. The fact is the county does not own the land, a fact which I have been telling them since 1973. A headline "County gets caught trespassing on private property" would be more accurate.

Mr. Obee should have his facts straight before he starts speaking for the County Roads Committee. 1. County offer to purchase Silver Springs in 1973 was not more than purchase price in 1972 and improvements had been made to property. 2. County offer of purchase was withdrawn. 3. Appraised value in 1979 used by County was the lesser of two values placed on property by the same appraiser.

Silver Springs consists of 10 rental cottages, 1050 sq. ft. house, 21 acres of land including 700 ft. water frontage on Elephant Lake. Where in this county can anyone purchase that amount of property for $65,000? A second value given by the appraiser was not double that amount nor did County Roads Committee try to negotiate a selling price.

4. My proposal to the county of moving the house and two cottages was made in order to keep this matter out of court and make a safe passage with tunnel under road for our tourist guests. County offer of $20,000 would not cover my costs of $30,000 for moving buildings and associated re-building. Cash requested of county of $26,500 was not sufficient but I was willing to absorb some of this cost. This proposal eliminated approximately $20,000 construction cost as well as giving land to county for widening the road. Further, the motion made by the County offering $20,000, read in such a manner that two more cottages would have to be removed. Just another little sneaky play by Roads Committee.

5. Mr. Obee admits that the road reconstruction design does not meet M.T.C. standards. Why do we have standards? One reason is safety. Sight distance is one standard which is not met, and in fact the worst sight distance is where tourists cross the road on foot and in their vehicles. What Mr. Obee does not say is that property owners involved in this section of road hired a consulting engineer to study the re-routing of this road and on a cost/effective basis have shown the difference in cost of re-routing away from lakeshore is approximately $15,000.

To explain cost/effective: road is properly built to M.T.C. standards during initial construction or the same amount of money (in today's dollar) is spent over the next twenty years in maintenance. The County has not made such a study and Mr. Obee's figures of over a million dollars is a figure he has picked out of the air, along with other figures he has used at other times of $2 - 3 million.

6. Mr. Obee's statement that County has been fair in dealing with this issue doesn't hold in the fact that County has proceeded with road widening and have spent a considerable amount of money on land which they do not have rights to at this time. County Roads Committee have hidden behind closed doors and made their decisions for so long that they have forgotten that sooner or later those decisions must be aired in the light of day and in this case in the courts.

7. Obee states that I knew of Martin Lumber when I purchased Silver Springs in 1972. In 1971-1972 Martin Lumber was a much smaller operation than it now is. The road was a municipal road and the traffic count was considerably less than it is now. Further it is only a matter of a short time until this road is connected to another existing road and creates a through route from 648 hwy. to 62 hwy. at Maynooth creating a short route from points south-east of us to Algonquin Park and through to Ottawa.

It certainly is sad, Mr. Editor, that you did not print all these facts in your original story as they were in your possession at the time. I trust that no editing of the contents of this letter will be made. Thank you.

Dennis Waymouth,
Silver Springs,
Harcourt, Ontario

To the Editor:

The story entitled "County expropriating land it says it owns" in last week's paper was well written and shows our county civil servants think that people in our county must be stupid. To say they are expropriating land when they own it doesn't make any sense at all. The county registrar's office and Bishop and Wilson, Surveyors, have very good records that show accurately whether they own it or not. A transfer of ownership would be on record in the land office if they did own it. There can be no question so Mr. Bill Obee must be trying to pull the wool over Mr. Waymouth's eyes. If Mr. Obee is so right why can't he come up with the documents that show ownership.

I don't agree with the County's approach to the work proposed on Elephant Lake Road, County Road #10 and I don't care if Mr. Obee doesn't sympathize with me. The only way to eliminate the problem is to bite the bullet and do it right. The road has needed straightening for many years and if the county had done it just 10 years ago the million they have spent on repairs during that period would have paid for it two times over.

I don't think it's fair for we taxpayers in Haliburton to expect Dennis Waymouth to lose his business because our civil servants haven't done their jobs for the past 10 years. I don't think it's fair for us to put him out of business in favour of Martin's multi-million dollar business and I will help him fight this battle to the finish.

Please, if there are any other fair-minded people in our county, please write to the Echo or to me to support Mr. Waymouth's position.

Thankyou.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

The National Hockey League got underway last week when they kicked off the 1980-81 season. In one of the opening games the Philadelphia Flyers defeated the Pittsburgh Penguins by the score of 8 - 6. In this game Ron Stackhouse got off to a flying start by scoring one of the Pittsburgh goals. The ice has been left in at the arena in Haliburton and the local boys have been practising for some time now. The artificial ice will be going into the arenas at both Minden and Wilberforce very soon and the hockey season in Haliburton County will be in full swing. The Haliburton Huskies are already underway playing in the regular schedule and they are going to need your support if they are to make the play-offs and go on to bigger and better things. The Huskies who are playing in an eight-team league have the ability and the talent to win quite a number of games this year but it certainly is a lot easier when the players feel that the local fans are behind them. It is also to be hoped that during the 1980-81 hockey season more parents and fans will get out to show their moral support for the boys who play minor hockey and will be the future citizens of tomorrow.

Rev. "Chuck" Flynn, who is production engineer with MacDonald-Douglas Aircraft will be the guest speaker at the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship Dinner to be held at the Canadian Legion Hall at Haliburton this coming Friday evening, October 17th starting at 7:00 p.m. He worked on the Saturn and Apollo projects as well as on the D.C. 10 air bus. He speaks and teaches all over the world and is used by the Holy Spirit in the word of knowledge. He will also be speaking at the Full Gospel Lighthouse in Haliburton on Thursday, October, 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Tom Rutherford, a former minister at the United Church at Haliburton, along with his wife, passed through Haliburton one day last week on their way back home to Niagara Falls, Ontario.

Frank McIntyre is still in the Civic Hospital in Peterborough and I am sure that he would enjoy receiving a note or card from any of you.

Joe Banks, a former reporter with the Echo and who is now on the staff of the Arnprior Chronicle, was renewing old acquaintances in the village over the weekend.

Every year about this time when the Thanksgiving weekend is over we find it to be a little depressing and sad when we have to say goodbye to many of our good friends who come up in the early spring, stay until Thanksgiving and then head back to Toronto or to some other centre in Ontario for the winter months. I have had the pleasure of getting to know most of them personally and I am always fascinated by the interest they show in local affairs and the wonderful way in which they get involved in the community. They are wonderful people and I can hardly wait until they move back and become year round residents. It's the new blood in our communities with these people with new, fresh ideas that is going to make the county go ahead.

Many of the business people in the various communities throughout Haliburton County have been collecting, through donations, money for the Terry Fox Marathon of Hope. One of these is the Haliburton IGA store which collected a total of $165.00 from customers who placed the money in a bottle which was displayed at the front of the store.

Paul Wilson and David Bishop combined to give the members of the Rotary Club of Haliburton an interesting talk and movie recently on their trip along with Ken and John Wilson to Great Bear Lake and the Arctic Ocean where they caught unbelievable numbers of lake trout, char and grayling. It must have been a wonderful trip and the scenery and the crystal clear water that they encountered on this trip was something to behold.

On Thursday, October 30th at 7:30 p.m. in the Senior Elementary school library in Haliburton, residents of the area will be privileged to experience a musical evening with Father Carey Landry.

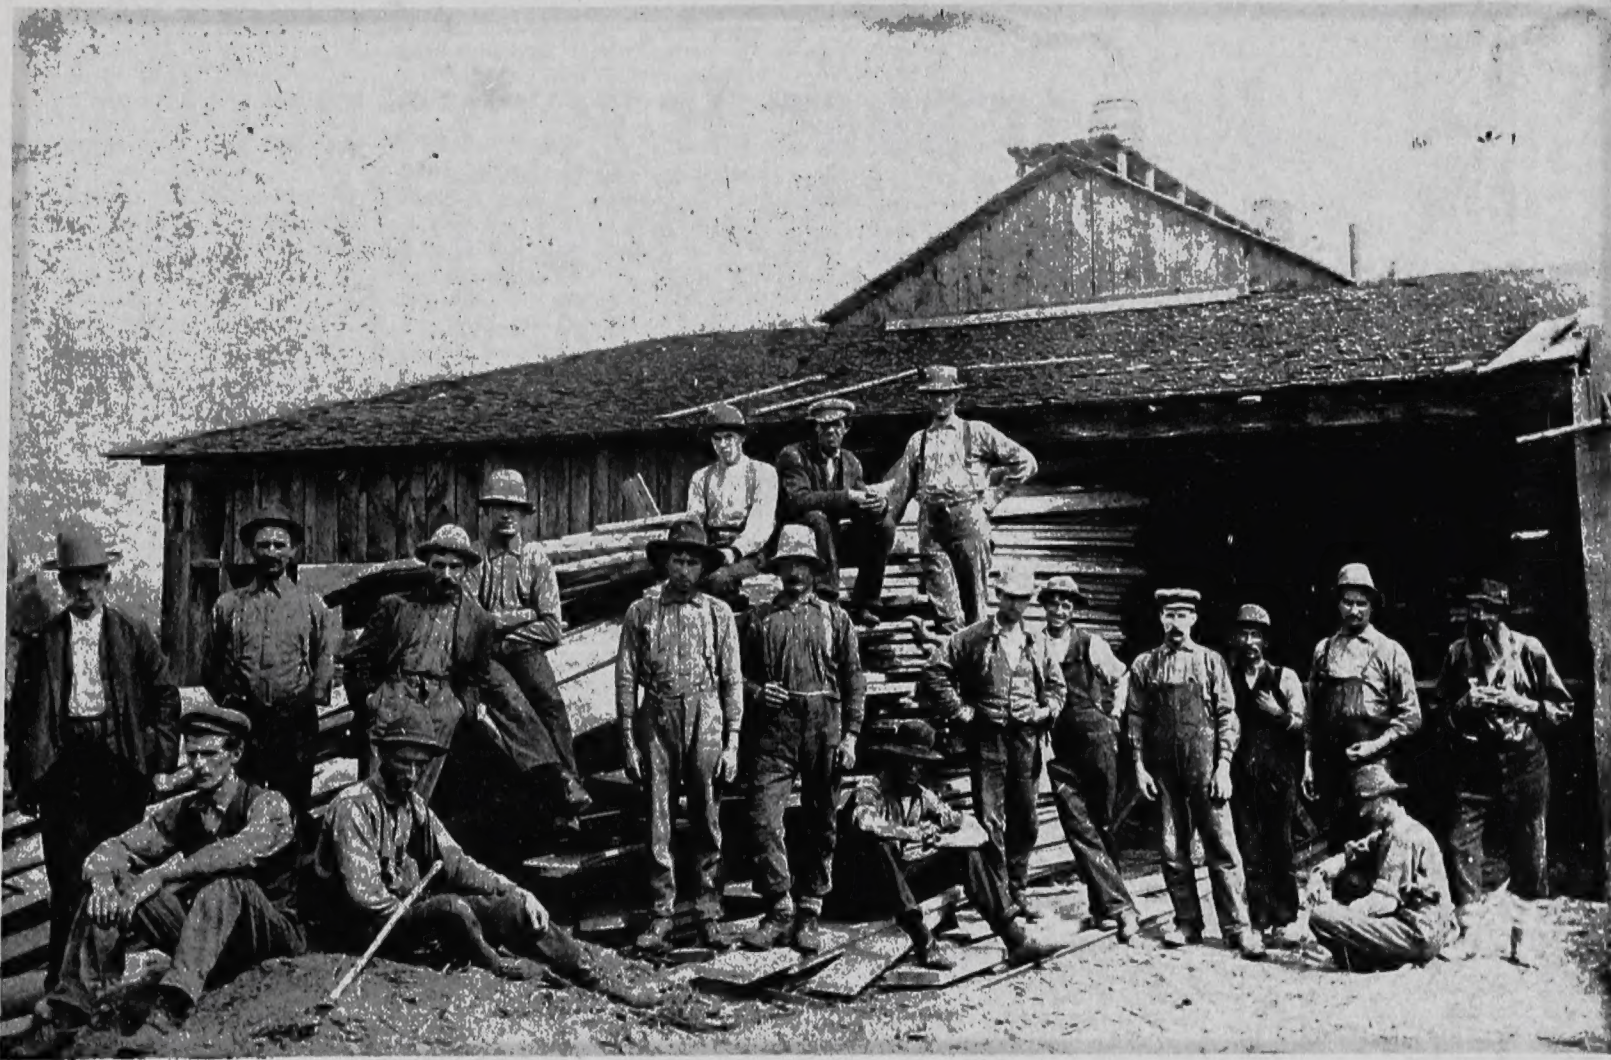

With his special gifts of sensitive spirituality and simple beauty of his music, Father Landry is truly a leader in the renewal movement within the whole church. Of Acadian background, he comes to us from Virginia where he presently serves as parish priest with a special mission in music. His songs are known and loved by many churches of various denominations, and his musical ministry to children is beautifully portrayed in the "Hi - God" and "Hi - God 2" recordings and song-books which are treasured and used in families and Sunday Schools.

He is coming to Haliburton by invitation of St. George's Anglican Church, supported by St. Anthony's, and Our Lady of Fatima Roman Catholic churches. Seating tickets should be obtained in advance from representatives of those churches.

The local hockey teams from Haliburton and surrounding area who have been practising at the arena in Haliburton for the past month or so should have the jump on many of the other clubs who will be visiting us this coming winter. For the second year in a row the ice was left in the arena following the activities of the summer hockey school. By the time that the regular schedule starts, most of the hockey players, no matter what age, should be in great condition. It is certainly wonderful when one thinks of the advantages we have with artificial ice.

Mr. Art Bennett will be the guest speaker when the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen hold their monthly communion and breakfast at St. Margaret's Anglican Church in Wilberforce this coming Sunday, October 19th at 8:00 a.m. Mr. Bennett tapes Rev. Desmond Hunt's bible studies and every Tuesday on the square in Toronto a ministry for men is held and he sends the tapes all over Canada and the United States. He is also the head of office automation for the T.D. bank.

Pic of the Past

Our thanks this week to Tom Hodgson of Oshawa, Ontario, for submitting this photo showing the sawmill in the Village of Wilberforce around 1910. It was located on the present site of the new Wilberforce Veneer and Lumber Co. Limited factory which was officially opened last Wednesday, October 8th. At the present time we only have the names of two men who are in this picture. Joseph McCoy, third from left standing, and Joseph McCoy (Sisson) first on the left seated on top of the lumber. The others are unknown and it would be interesting to discover just who they are. If you know the names of any of these men, please let us know.

I don't know that there's much point in writing this column. The posties are at it again, as I write, with wildcat strikes, slowdowns and whatever you want to call them.

And since the column is syndicated, nation-wide, it depends on the mail, erratic and undependable as it is. It would be a little expensive, to say the least, if I had to use courier service to Kamloops, B.C., and Truro, N.S., not to mention 100-odd places between.

However, it's an ingrained habit, like the Saturday night bath, so I'll bungle out a column anyway.

Something that truly amazes me is that there has been no physical response to the constant postal strikes, sometimes employing violence, often flouting the law.

In my mind's eye, I can see some little old lady, sore as hell because she got her pension cheque a month late, creeping up behind a post office truck and hurling a bomb through the back window.

Or some deserted wife, desperately dependent on that welfare cheque, taking a can of gasoline into a large post office in a large city, sprinkling herself liberally with the essence, striking a match, and immolating.

But in this country, the first example would get life imprisonment, where a murderer gets ten years with three off for good behaviour. And in the second, some good souls would start a fund to help her children, and within a week would have raised $482, by which time the story would be on page 24.

However, into each life some sun must shine, though there wasn't much around this past summer.

My wife had been feeling poorly, as we used to say, for some time. After six months of blandishment and threats, I got her to see her doctor and have a check-up.

Today she tells me that she phoned the doc and she's as sound as an apple. I asked her if she'd had him take an X-ray of her head. Everything else is functioning normally. Her reply was short and to the point.

Back at school after several weeks, I am beginning to wonder why I didn't quit teaching 10 years ago, and go to work in a mental institution. At least there you can stuff the inmates with tranquilizers.

One more year of teaching Huckleberry Finn, and the best place to find me is floating down the Mississippi on a raft, smoking a corn cob pipe. I quit teaching Grade 13 because I was getting madder than Hamlet.

The people who write course curriculums and advocate the one-on-one relationship with pupils are about as close to reality as the Ayatollah Khomeini or Ida Amin in his last few years.

If they had their way, it would be like Moses walking around among the Jews, asking each and every one, "Now, what do you think of the fourth commandment? do you think ass is a bad word?" Or Hitler, strolling through Germany for 88 years, querying the population about the polluting effects of mass cremations.

Fortunately, most teachers with an ounce of intelligence, and there are several of us, completely ignore the millions of dollars worth of "directives", and try to teach the kids some semblance of morality, decency, integrity, and whatever our subject is.

In 20 years, I'll bet I've taught 12 kids to answer, when I've asked if they have read a certain book, not to say, "No but I seen the movie."

I have taught at least 15 not to use the dangling participle, "Riding my bicycle, a dog bit me."

And I don't give a diddle. They've learned a lot more than that, and I have letters to prove it. They've learned not to laugh at people who are physically or emotionally or mentally slow, and to help them.

They've learned that nationalism is stupid, that two wrongs (depending) sometimes make a right; that two and two don't always make four; that you should question things that don't make sense; that emotions are nothing to be ashamed of, and so on and so on, said the boring old teacher.

If I don't want to get heartburn or something, I'd better stop talking about teaching. I've seen too many colleagues break down physically or mentally to take much stock in it. The kids go through the mill and emerge in all kinds of shapes: beautiful, grotesque, funny, dour. I think their genes have more to do with it than Miss Entwistle, who crucified them in Grade 9 for spelling errors. Or Mr. Entwistle, who taught them that:

"Beauty is truth, and truth beauty. That is all we know and all we need to know." Which is a lot of crap.

One last cheering note. An article informs me that there is no way Canadian tourists can go to Europe anymore, because the prices are literally out of this world. Glad we sneaked in a couple of trips when they were merely exorbitant.

Canadian tourist operators should be brushing up on their Japanese, German, and Italian. We're going to be swamped, with that pallid Canadian dollar. Canada is a steal for foreigners with a sound currency.

Seniors building to open officially

The Haliburton senior citizen apartment building will officially open October 21.

Representatives of the federal, provincial and municipal governments are expected to attend the ceremony commencing at 2 p.m. The 35-unit Ontario Housing Corporation development is located on Mountain Street.

The building, managed by the Victoria-Haliburton Housing Authority, was built by Conforzi-Smith Ltd., of Toronto. Total cost, including land and all other charges, was $706,912.

Report from Parliament

Last Monday, October 6, federal Justice Minister Jean Chretien led off the debate in the House of Commons on a government motion, tabled earlier by the Prime Minister, calling upon Her Majesty the Queen and the British Parliament to return the British North America Act to Canada.

In his remarks, Mr. Chretien mentioned the desirability of our being able to amend our own Constitution, and he said that that was the purpose of the government motion tabled earlier in the day.

His statement was absolutely false. The plain fact is that the Prime Minister is asking in his motion that the British Parliament approve a list of amendments to our Constitution before it is returned to Canada, along with an amending formula imposed on our country unilaterally by the Trudeau government.

I have said many times that we should consider asking Her Majesty and the British Parliament to release us from the necessity of having all amendments to our Constitution approved by Westminster, not because there have been any real problems associated with this practice but because I believe that it is time that we assume full responsibility for our own Constitution.

Since the Statute of Westminster of 1931, approval of amendments to our Constitution have been automatic on the part of the British Parliament, and so I do not accept the Prime Minister's argument that he must act unilaterally, and in all due haste, to bring home our Constitution within an arbitrary time limit.

The Right Honourable Joe Clark, as Leader of Her Majesty's Official Opposition, followed Mr. Chretien, and Mr. Clark attacked the government for seeking not only to bring home the Constitution unilaterally, but to seek British approval of sweeping amendments before it is even brought home.

Mr. Clark accused the Prime Minister of seeking, in Section 42 of his motion, of attempting to destroy the fundamental balance that has always existed between the federal and provincial governments and legislatures.

He said that, on the basis of this resolution, the central government would have the authority to deprive unilaterally the provinces of their powers. Mr. Clark added that a future government, using the powers that Mr. Trudeau seeks, could in fact sweep away the provinces, destroying the very things that make Canada a federation and in the end destroy Canada.

Mr. Clark said that the motion being debated contains "hidden purposes", and that while some good parts are wrapped in the flag of patriotism, there are other elements of the motion that could not only change the fundamental nature of our country but could in fact bring an end to Confederation.

Mr. Clark emphasized that Parliament has a responsibility to insure that the Canadian people fully understand the basic facts in this resolution, "because," he said, "it is the country of the Canadian people that this resolution proposes to change."

There is a very real danger that the Prime Minister's resolution will set the provinces against the federal government, and province against province. This will undoubtedly contribute to a renewal of separatist sentiment, not only in Quebec but also in the Atlantic Provinces and in the West.

Prime Minister Trudeau's resolution introduces a double standard into Canadian political conduct. He proposes to obtain the amendments he wants by asking Britain to amend the BNA Act and then return it to Canada. For all other amendments, those that other governments might want in future, he seeks to impose on them his own personal amending formula.

Unfortunately, we have very few real heroes and our society's young people are left to idolize immature, spoiled, money-hungry athletes or drug induced rock stars with performances that include vomiting on stage or ripping apart live animals.

Terry Fox on the other hand, is a real modern day hero. He represents virtues and attributes that we, as Canadians, should certainly want our young people to emulate.

The name Terry Fox is now synonymous with courage, dedication, purpose, pride, unselfishness, achievement and both mental and physical strength.

Canadians of all ages stand to gain a great deal in following the inspirational example set by this brave young man.

As an adult who has great concern for our young people, I hope and pray that during our youth's formative years they will continue to have real heroes such as Terry Fox to help them become morally and spiritually strong.

Huskies take first win in Jr. C

After two losses Haliburton showed strong team work

by Len Pizzev - Editor

Looking for their first win as a Junior C club after a disappointing loss to Parry Sound in the season opener, the Haliburton Huskies failed to click in Huntsville Friday night, but unleashed a solid offence at home Sunday afternoon to demolish Midland.

Friday night's game saw rookie goal tender Dave Elstone between the pipes for the first time this year, and the outing proved to be a tough one for Huskies back-up netminder.

Although he handled 35 shots, eight more slipped by while the Huskies managed to drive only three into the Huntsville mesh.

The Huskies appeared to be off to a good start early in the game, when they pressed the attack and went ahead 1-0 at the 2:20 mark. Dean Potter was the scorer, assisted by Brian Lloyd and Mike Scheffee. But then Huntsville shut the door for the rest of the period and throughout the second, while Haliburton was unable to handle the home team's offence.

As in their first outing against Parry Sound, the Huskies could not get their power play working effectively soon enough to stay on top.

Their first opportunity to widen the gap came at 8:15 when a Huntsville defenseman was called for high sticking. Despite the short-handed situation however, Huntsville found the mark at 8:45 to even the score, and with effective defensive play, managed to dissipate any attacking strength the Huskies could muster.

At the 13:44 mark, Huntsville moved out in front on an unassisted goal by centre Craig Orley.

The Huskies had a chance to get back in the game a minute later when an elbowing penalty gave them a one-man advantage but aided by strong net-minding, Huntsville held off the attack. Early in the second, Huntsville stretched their lead to two as Todd Dart got his second on the way to an eventual hat trick. Time of the goal was 5:31.

Penalties began to take their toll for the Huskies in the second period as Huntsville capitalized twice on the power play, once at 15:28 while Dean Potter and Mark Bowman were sitting out four-minute high sticking and two-minute roughing calls respectively, and again at 16:57 while Kevin O'Hara was off for holding.

Haliburton were looking to rally in the third when O'Hara scored on the power play from Chris Hodgson and Ed Roberts at 3:03, but Huntsville quickly put a damper on any such hopes when they made it 6-2 with a goal at 7:08.

The Huskies' power play clicked for the second time in the match at 10:07 of the third as Hodgson connected from Scheffee and Mike Rae to narrow the gap to 6-3.

But Huntsville effectively closed the door at that point, holding off the Huskies' offence and penetrating their defense for two more, at 15:05 and 17:57 to round out a solid 8-3 win.

The Huskies were definitely outplayed in Friday's match, but at home Sunday, they left no doubt that what they lack is consistency rather than talent.

Fired up before the home town crowd, the Huskies took only three minutes to get on the board, beginning a scoring streak that continued through to the final seconds of the match.

Ed Roberts was the first Huskie to find the mark, connecting at 3:19 off the stick of Dave Nichols.

Just 23 seconds later, Roberts again put one on the crease, this time with assists from Kevin O'Hara and Chris Hodgson.

Midland looked like they might fight back however as they narrowed the gap to one at 3:53, and tied the score at 13:51.

The Huskies wasted little time in regaining the lead as Hodgson teamed up with Roberts and Jim Lee at 14:39 to make it 3-2, but the advantage was shortlived, as Midland again tied things up with a goal at 15:17.

It was a seesaw battle for the rest of the period and into the opening minutes of the second. The Huskies looked like they might be in trouble at 6:40 when Midland tallied to move ahead 4-3, but the home team fought back, tying things up at 11:04 when Gary Harrison scored off Mike Rae and Kevin Shapiera and moving ahead at 16:31 as Ron Yake teamed up Shapiera to give the Huskies a 5-4 advantage.

In the third, the Huskies' offensive effort really began to open up, as Dave Nichols clicked on the power play from Hodgson and Roberts, at 3:05 and Don Manary succeeded on a single-handed effort just 13 seconds later.

Hoping to come back, Midland changed goal tenders at 8:22 of the third, but it proved to be too little, too late, as the Huskies were able to rack up three more before the final buzzer.

Midland made it 7-5 at the 9:30 mark, but it was as close as they could get for the rest of the period. At 15:18 the Huskies power play connected for a second time, as Mark Bowman made it 8-5 off the sticks of Yake and Lee.

Dave Nichols got his second of the game at 17:15 with an assist from Harrison, and completed the hat trick and the Huskies scoring at 19:39, assisted by Roberts and Mike Scheffee.

The win was a strong team effort by the Huskies and marked a turn-around in their early season fortunes. The team will be looking to tie their record at two and two when they travel to Oro Wednesday.

The Huskies will be at home Friday against Bracebridge, starting at 8:30, and again Sunday starting at 4 p.m.

Junior soccer team needs two wins for playoff spot

The HHSS junior soccer team held off the top team in their league until the last 26 seconds of the game, when Lindsay scored the only goal, in Haliburton last Thursday afternoon.

During the match, which coach Paul Morissette dubbed their best of the year, Haliburton's defensive squad shone. Goalie Steve Smith, fullback Colin Newell and forward Kevin Warburton all played outstanding games, Morissette said.

The final score in the game against LCVI was 1-0. HHSS matched the skills of the top team throughout the game, according to Morissette.

In its first season of play, the Haliburton junior team has held its own in the competitive league. To qualify for a playoff position, the boys will have to win their two games scheduled for this week.

On Tuesday they met the Fenelon Falls team and will travel to Lindsay to play against I.E. Weldon on Friday.

Morissette said the team has been competitive in every game it has played this season and with two-thirds of the team remaining on the junior team next year, the future looks good.

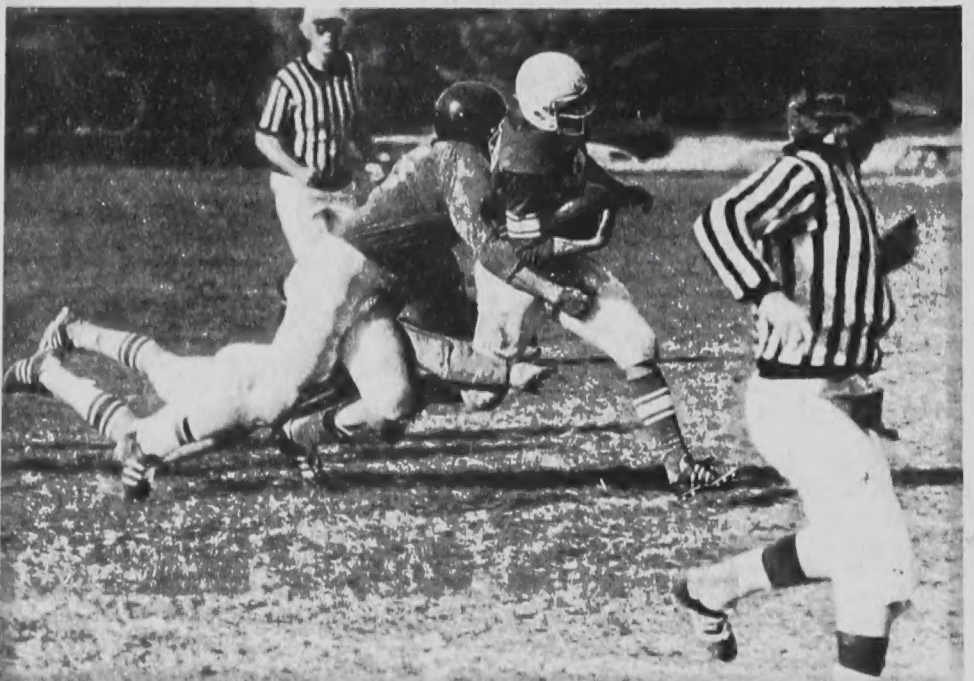

Haliburton Highlands Secondary School junior soccer team played its best game of the season last Thursday afternoon at home. The Haliburton boys played a strong defensive game against LCVI, losing the match in the last 26 seconds.

Duck hunt normal this year

Duck hunters in the Minden district seem to be shooting about the same number of ducks as last season, according to a recent Ministry of Natural Resources survey.

On opening day, September 20, three conservation officers checked a total of 90 hunters in the area, C.O. Barry Walker said Tuesday. According to the opening day survey those hunters spent 294 man hours hunting to shoot a total of 106 ducks. This averages out to 2.8 manhours per duck with each hunter shooting 1.2 ducks.

The survey broke the number of ducks down into species with 36 mallards, 37 wood ducks, nine mergansers, two ring necks, two blue winged teal, 19 black ducks and one hooded merganser. Walker said no geese had been shot by the hunters who were interviewed.

In comparison to studies from last year the averages are similar although more hunters were checked last year by an additional conservation officer.

Checks and surveys are conducted throughout the fall and reports have not been completed as yet, Walker said.

Regional assessment figures being presented to councils

The regional assessment commission will be presenting the results of equalized assessment studies to local municipal councils in the near future.

Paul Lindquist, of the regional assessment office, said Tuesday he would be presenting the results of the study to Anson, Hindon and Minden council at its regular meeting next Wednesday evening.

Last week, Lindquist was unable to present the figures to council because results of the study had not been processed by the data centre.

The regional assessment office carried out a study at municipal councils' requests, researching the effect of equalized assessment within property classes in individual municipalities. At present, assessments are based on figures which were frozen in 1969 by the Ontario government.

In the new method of assessment under section 86 of The Assessment Act, assessments on properties in the same class would be equalized to rectify gross inequities which now exist in the system.

As Lindquist described it, the new system would ensure that two people who owned similar homes in the same township would be paying the same amount of taxes, which is not always the case at the present.

This system will not pro-

$1,900 awarded at Kinsmen derby

Winners at the annual Minden Kinsmen demolition derby took home over $1,900 in prize money on Saturday.

Top prize winner was LaVerne Greer, of Huntsville, who accepted $1,000 for his driving abilities. Second prize of $500 went to Barry Connelly, of Minden, driving for Suggitt Auto Wreckers in Lindsay, and third prize of $300 was presented to Wayne Greer of Lindsay.

The consolation prize of $65 was presented to Mike Baker, of Stouffville, with Sandra Debins, of Lindsay, winning $50 in the powder puff competition.

vide total equalized assessment between different classes of properties like residential and commercial, however.

Lindquist said representatives at the assessment commission were to present the new figures at Dysart et al council on Tuesday as well as Anson, Hindon and Minden next Wednesday.

He emphasized the figures would show the impact on individual municipalities as the system will not equalize assessments throughout the county.

At present only Cardiff and Glamorgan townships have enacted the new system.

The new figures will not increase the municipalities' abilities to raise taxes as the total overall assessment will not be changed. Lindquist said the total assessment of a municipality can only be changed if additional buildings are built and their assessment added to the tax roll.

Man injured after fall from pickup truck box

A Mississauga man was taken by air ambulance to a Toronto hospital after he fell out of a pickup truck box and injured his head, Sunday evening.

Howard Barnes, 23, was taken to Huntsville hospital then transferred to Toronto. The extent of his head injuries are unknown.

At the time of the accident, Barnes was riding in the pickup truck box along the McClintock Township dump road when he stood up and fell from the moving truck.

Police say the rough conditions of the road apparently caused him to lose his balance and tumble from the vehicle.

Linda Guthro, 29 of Hamilton, was driving the truck at the time of the accident.

A Haliburton man was taken to Haliburton hospital for treatment of minor injuries after a car in which he was riding struck a parked car at Skyline Park Lookout early last Saturday morning.

Robert John Smith, 20, was taken to the hospital by ambulance while three other people in the car were unharmed. Smith was a passenger in a car driven by John Briggs, 18 of RRI, Minden, along with passengers Brett Floyd Hie, 18 of RRI, Haliburton, and Stephen Joseph Elliott, 17 of Wilberforce.

Briggs was driving in the park when his car struck the rear of a parked car, driven by Joseph Howard Roberts, 21 of Haliburton. A passenger in the car, Heather Jane Parish, 20 of Oshawa, was not injured in the accident.

Damage to Roberts 1978 Camaro was estimated at $2,000 while Briggs' 1972 Ford also sustained $2,000 damage.

A Sharon, Ontario man was charged with careless driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident after he lost control of his car and it swerved across the highway and hit a hydro pole, last Saturday.

Dale Carey, 23, was northbound on Highway 519 and about to round a curve when the accident occurred. Damage to the 1970 Plymouth was estimated at $1,000 while the pole sustained $25 damage.

A Rexdale man was charged with failing to report an accident forthwith when he reported it later on Saturday morning.

Stephen Boru, 20, was eastbound on County Road 12 aim is to hire a qualified teacher to handle academic studies.

A typical school day might include a devotional period at the outset of the day followed by scripture studies with religious and academic studies being taught together, Kurtz said.

Presently the committee investigating the alternative school concept is hoping to look at some established alternate schools to acquire ideas for funding operating procedures.

Some alternate schools charge a tuition fee ranging up to $600 per student, Kurtz said. However the actual funding arrangements for this school have not been decided on, the pastor added.

Planning for the school will get into full swing at the beginning of the year, Kurtz said. He said that since the meeting in June when the proposal was first discussed, progress had slowed since here was not enough time to have the school in operation for 1980-81 year.

If the school does become a reality, the pastor said smaller children will probably be enrolled since it would be difficult to take a senior student from the public school system in the middle of his education. However, the Accelerated Christian Education program does include studies up to grade 12.

Kurtz said he has received about "12 or 15" serious inquiries so far, but no parents have committed themselves to the scheme.

involved. If enough interest is generated at the meeting Brown said an organization will be formed and committees will be responsible for certain areas of education.

Items of concern for the new group might be the effect of declining enrolment in the future, including the threatened closures of Dorset and Gooderham public schools; the new legislative Bill 82 which centres on education for below average students and other matters. The association also might look into the problems associated with above average children if there is a demand from parents, Brown said.

She emphasized there are many issues that concern all parents no matter what part of the county they are from or what age their children are.

She said the parent group, if organized like similar organizations could possibly get involved in curriculum choices and other matters affecting their children's education.

Anyone interested in attending the information meeting is invited.

Koshlong Lake claims life of St. Catharines man, 72

A St. Catharines man drowned in Koshlong Lake after the boat carrying him, his wife and brother, capsized last Wednesday evening.

Dead is John Edward Carruthers, 72 of Woodruff Ave. in St. Catharines.

Apparently Carruthers, his wife Eleanor and brother, Hugh Carruthers, were crossing the lake to check a cottage and also to view the colour of the leaves.

Shortly after heading out to the cottage on Wallace Island, the boat capsized and John Carruthers was unable to make it to shore. Eleanor Carruthers and Hugh Carruthers were later found on shore by members of the OPP detachment suffering from exposure.

COUNTY ECHO FAMILY

Extendicare News by Dr. W. O. Anderson

This soupy autumn weather is not very good for those farmers who still have some harvest to get such as grain or ensilage. Seasons like this come and go and we wonder if we will get it done. Eventually it does get done and properly too.

All of the flower planters on the patios are 'plowed under' ready when spring comes. Doing it that way it makes a nice black rich soil to plant in when we need it. It is curious that the amount of soil remains the same.

Tuesday morning it was picking time at the old stand, our own harvest making sweet green tomatoes, pickles, golf ball size and put in pound size containers, and at $1.25 per they were sold out before they were cold. Dr. Hartwick invested in two and tendering a five spot said "keep the change", a very nice way of making a donation.

Hazel Parish, Noreen Stevens, Floissie Burk, Maude Weston, Elizabeth McIntosh, Lila Simmons, Vivia Bowen and Christina McCrae were the picklers in the auspices of Pat Burk. What a party! None of the participants were pickled, just the tomatoes, the result of the industry of Norman Titus our chief gardener.

In the afternoon was bingo as usual with Ray Smith alternating with Allen Macklin doing the calling and Greta Kellett the lone helper and Pat Burk supervising. It is quite an old game with none of us risking anything and having a better than average chance of winning some goodies.

Later in the afternoon we prepared some spirea cuttings that we hope we can get to grow in the spring. There is not much to it. A gad that has grown this year is selected, cut off with sharp knife, and avoiding the tip the butt is made into two or three cuttings with at least 3 buds each, dusted with captan, wrapped together with sphagnum moss in a plastic bag and placed in the refrigerator. We will report in the spring whether they grow or not.

Wednesday morning on our walk as we passed a black cherry tree, we cut a sprig of this year's growth and brought it with us to be added to the spirea after labelling, realizing that it will be exceptionally dubious. Meanwhile the others were in a desperate game of carpet bowling when we got back an even score having been broken and won.

After mid-day meal Pat Burk bused us around Kashagawigamog Lake, over the outlet bridge which is plainly posted with a load limit. We noticed too where they are brushing out the right of ways how the gangs leave all the sizable pieces to be picked up by someone to be used as fuel. It is nice to know that the County of Haliburton will allow no fuel to be wasted. During this trip among the gorgeous autumn leaves could we scarce help thinking that every living tree is composed of from 90 to 98 percent water and moreover during the heat of the summer the leaves are sweating profusely, so why cannot authority prevent the green wet trees from burning in huge forest fires? Someone is slipping or thinking wrong or refusing to listen. What a terrible event is a bush fire, we were thinking as we looked over our forested landscape.

We love our Canada, but midst all the hoopla about the constitution there is a sour note that bids to fester at Labrador City for centuries to come. Newfoundlanders and French Canadians scarcely speak at the Newfoundland Labrador-Quebec boundary, the former getting all the choice employment and the latter next to slave labour if there is any. Newfoundland Labrador developed Upper Churchill Falls power potential but Quebec reaps all the financial benefit and has the power to use herself or for export. Quebec will allow no power to be transmitted through her territory except her own. Newfoundland Labrador's only chance on the lower Churchill is the under water transmission through Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick supplying those provinces along the way, unless one of those provinces have a Levesque-like premier. Thus as it has turned out it is too bad Newfoundland chose Canada instead of the United States when she joined confederation. Now Trudeau's hurry with the constitution and charter of rights is wrong and nothing further should be done until it is right.

Pastor the Rev. Roger Sauve of the Gooderham Pentecostal Church led in the devotional period Friday morning, coming well accomplished not only in piano but a guitarist. While his wife Sharon led us in the singing, the pastor beautifully provided us with piano accompaniment, making each hymn a sermon in itself. He read from the 27th psalm, assuring us that we have only to accept Christ and we will have life eternal, a cheery message to many of us. Toward the close, Rev. Roger and Sharon favoured us with a nice spiritual duet accompanied by his guitar. Prominent among the listeners were Tom and Mrs. Vivien Dovel also from Gooderham and friends of the pastor who came along to add themselves to the visit. Thanks to you all!

In the afternoon were two movies. 1. Antarctic crossing showing the efforts of Shackleton in the Antarctic explorations and his reaching the south pole. The preparations for such an undertaking were stupendous, even to anticipating having a huge tractor dropping into a crevasse and how click it was to get it out. On some stop-overs for instance, they could set up a housekeeping facility as comfortable and as handy as though they were in civilization. Then we are reminded of the poles and the polarity of the earth just like nearly everything we work with has polarity, electric current, compasses, in fact everything because we are living in electric, or electronic, or ionic fields of force, continuously bombarded by rays of every length but marvellously protected by our atmosphere. Most of all of this has been revealed to us in the last millennium, and we can expect more and more to come as scholars of all peoples are unravelling these matters. "Sing a little, a sort of George Formby program, - cute."

Our meals on Thanksgiving Sunday were set special for the occasion, with the tables set in white linen. Special menus were served especially at the noon meal when a minister, a resident, The Rev. Wallace Allison, formerly of St. Catharines, said grace. This was roast turkey with dressing and all the trimmings and cranberry sauce. Our thanks go to Extendicare and especially their chefs in the kitchen.

- Intended for last week -
The weather has been very nice this week and our residents at Hyland Crest have been enjoying it very much.

L. Blanche Lewis

Blanche Lewis of Wilberforce, Ontario, died at the St. Joseph Hospital in Peterborough, Ontario, October 5, 1980, following a short illness. She was 84.

Born May 30, 1896 in Highland Grove, Ontario, she was the daughter of the late John and Elizabeth Suec (nee Mundell). In October 1913 she married Nelson Lewis and resided in Highland Grove, Ontario where they farmed. Upon retiring in 1967 they took up residence in Wilberforce, Ontario.

Surviving are her husband

Nelson and six children, Carl, Laverne (Bernie) and Jean (Mrs. Lloyd MacDuff), all of Wilberforce, Ont., Raymond of Harcourt, Guy of Peterborough and Valera (Mrs. Ross Mumford) of Lindsay. She was the loving grandmother of 21 grandchildren (predeceased by two), 32 great grandchildren (predeceased by one) and four great great grandchildren. Also surviving is a brother, Percy Suec of Peterborough, Ontario. She was predeceased by one brother Marshal Suec and one sister, Gertrude Lewis.

Funeral service was held at the Wiggins Funeral Chapel, Bancroft, Ontario on October 8 at 1:30 p.m. Rev. Clive Wilson officiated. Interment was at Deer Lake Cemetery, Highland Grove, Ontario.

Pallbearers were her grandsons, Lyle and Darryl MacDuff, Randy and Larry Lewis, Kevin and Dana Mumford, Dean and Darryl Lewis.

After dinner there was a good turnout to watch the movies. A Long Way From Tipperary was all about the Legion. We saw how the Legion serves a community need all across Canada. The Legion sponsors and supports athletic clubs, hockey, football, baseball and track and field. In Prince Edward Island, the Legion is responsible for a 24 bed hospital for handicapped children. They also donate more than $200,000 per year toward scholarships and bursaries. We saw also how the Legion looks after the welfare of the veterans and their families. Thousands of poppies are manufactured every year to remind Canadians of the cost of war.

"A Way of Life" introduced us to a farmer and his family. It showed us the difficulty in giving up farm life at retirement age, and the advantages of living in the country. The residents thoroughly enjoyed these two films.

Tuesday morning Rev. Trevor Denny held service in the chapel. Mr. Fred Ballard was here to play the organ while we sang some inspirational hymns. In the afternoon several people gathered in the main lounge for a game of bingo. Mrs. Rowbotham was just one of the lucky winners. Fred Ballard came back in the evening to entertain for music night. Several residents enjoyed the organ music and are looking forward to his next visit.

Wednesday evening, was games night. The residents enjoyed playing euchre, crockinole, scrabble and poker with the help of the students from Haliburton Secondary School.

Mail letters now post office warns

Canadian residents should start thinking now about mailing cards and parcels to friends and relatives overseas, to avoid the Christmas rush.

Canada Post has issued its annual "mail early" deadlines, and many of these dates are fast approaching for people who wish to ensure that their mail arrives overseas in plenty of time for Christmas and New Year's festivities.

For example, parcels to Europe, Central and South America, and the West Indies should be in the mail no later than October 17 to take advantage of the less expensive surface parcel rates. Surface parcels to Africa, India, Pakistan, and other Asian countries should be posted by October 10. Air mail parcels to Europe, Central and South America, and the West Indies have a deadline of November 28. The deadline for air mail to African and Asian Nations is November 21.

Mailing dates for international air mail letter and greeting cards are December 5 for all destinations except Haiti, the Dutch Antilles and Cuba, which is November 28, and Great Britain and Ireland, December 12.

The deadline for mailing within Canada and to the United States is mid-December.

Greeting cards going overseas by surface or Third Class air mail must be unsealed and marked "printed papers" to meet international requirements. Those to American and Canadian destinations, however, should be sealed. Cards to the U.S.A. must also be marked "printed papers".

Christmas card rates are as follows: Canada and U.S.A. - First Class 17 cents; Third Class 15 cents. Overseas - First Class air mail 35 cents; Third Class air mail 27 cents; Third Class surface 18 cents.

Customers are advised to contact their local post office for further details.

The number of talented crafts people in Haliburton County is evident for all to see in the homes of our friends and neighbours.

You may admire a beautifully built chest or dresser, a particular wall hanging, or again it could be a bowl or mug.

These are only a few of the many beautiful and original items crafted within our county's borders, and this evening, Wednesday, October 15 and 16, you will be given an opportunity to view an area of craft that has to date been very exclusive.

Its exclusiveness is due to the rising cost of natural fibers as well as the time and work involved in creating original designs and patterns, therefore limiting its production and availability on the craft market.

The Rails' End Gallery is therefore proud to present "Wearable Weaving" a fashion show of articles crafted by our local "Weavers and Spinners" along with other well-known weavers from the surrounding area. - Don't miss this pleasurable evening. The show starts at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are $2. at the door.

"Local Artists Teach Exploratory Arts Course"
Greater appreciation of works of art comes with better understanding of artists' perceptions and interpretations. This course will offer you the opportunity to achieve increased understanding of contemporary and historical pieces of work. Through participation in an elementary arts experience and instruction you will gain greater insights and enjoyment of art and techniques.

No previous artistic experience is necessary for full enjoyment of these classes, but through contact with an enthusiastic instructor, you will be stimulated to comment and participate in creative experiences.

This very competent instructor is Mr. Bruce Mills, whose paintings have been in many gallery shows and are also present at different locations around Haliburton. Time of classes: Sunday afternoons 1:00 to 2:30 for the next few weeks. Location: Rails' End Gallery, Haliburton. For further information call the gallery at 457-2330.

DISTRICT NEWS

Students and staff at Dorset Elementary School enjoyed Santa Claus' visit. Above, junior students receive gifts and, right, principal Garth Kellett has fun with Santa.

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

A rainy day did not discourage the busload of senior citizens who headed for Lanark on Tuesday morning, October 7. The scenery was enjoyable and a happy sing song helped to speed the miles. On reaching Lanark a tour was conducted through the three show rooms of the Kitten Knitting Mills. A variety of articles were on display which included such things as towels and men's apparel. Leaving Lanark the bus proceeded to Smith Falls with a stop at the large Hershey factory. A film based on the famous chocolate production and a tour of the plant explained the operations necessary to produce a variety of the delicious products. Free samples were distributed then members re-entered the bus and it proceeded to Perth where an excellent supper had been arranged for the visitors. The rain had ceased, the trees were beautiful in their full colour and a gorgeous sunset provided the perfect touch as the bus headed home.

Wednesday, October 8 marked an historical event for Wilberforce when Harold Herlihey cut the ribbon at the official opening of the new veneer plant. Harold had been with the company since its inception, being part owner of the Wilberforce Lumber Company when it was formed in 1937. He gave a lively report on operations and changes occurring over the years until the take-over of the lumber company by present owners Joseph Klaser and Ted Samuel in 1968 at which time it became the Wilberforce Veneer and Lumber Company.

Long-time employee Bruce Gibbs was presented with a gift for his many years of service to the company.

The veneer plant is very important to our community, employing 60 people and using locally-cut logs for the veneer production. A tour of the plant explained the various operations from logs to finished sheets of plywood that are sent to the second plant in Orono to be made into furniture and many other useful products.

This is the age of scarcity in many things that we once took for granted. The fish are disappearing from the lakes, the deer are vanishing and although our population seems to be healthy our school rooms are gradually becoming empty as more and more of our children are being shipped off in buses to Haliburton.

One lively class that remains is that of Mrs. Pat Clarke. These grade one and two youngsters provide the library with pin-ups for holiday occasions. For this Thanksgiving holiday they offered colourful turkeys cut from Bristol board and cleverly decorated, accompanying these were figures of the early pilgrim fathers and their wives in authentic costume. They are a bright, lively group, eager to absorb the good schooling provided by the Wilberforce school, that is well-maintained by principal Charles Hughes.

On Friday evening from seven to eight an arts and craft class will be held in the basement of the library under the guidance of Donna Herbert. This looks like a very interesting evening with Hallowe'en projects in the schedule.

On Saturday, October 18 the ladies of the A.C.W. will be on hand for the sale of used clothing in the basement of St. Margaret's Church.

A bridal shower is to be held in the Legion Hall on Sunday the 19th at 1:30 p.m. This is a miscellaneous shower and is for Cindy Daniels. Her many friends are welcome to come and join in the best wishes for future happiness.

The Monmouth Recreation Committee are to be congratulated on the successful dance held on Saturday night at the Memorial Centre. The Wilno Express played with great enthusiasm and a fine variety of food was offered by the hard-working committee members. A good crowd was in attendance and they made the most of this last holiday occasion before Christmas.

The sympathy of the community is extended to friends and relatives of Mrs. Blanche Lilly Lewis who passed away on October 5, 1980. Mrs. Lewis has lived for many years in the village of Wilberforce. She is the mother of Mrs. Jean MacDuff.

Dorset News

by Phyllis Briscoe

"There is no air like country air, sweet as heather honey; you cannot buy a scent so sweet for any kind of money."

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family of Hughena Sedgewick of St. Nora's Lake who passed away suddenly on October 4. The funeral service was held in the chapel of the Addison Funeral Home, Huntsville, with burial at the Twelve Mile Lake cemetery.

The opening of the new Dorset Fire Hall on Saturday, October 4 was well attended in spite of the fact it was a rainy afternoon. The hall itself is an impressive structure and was built mainly by volunteer labour, the members of the fire department being in there wholeheartedly as well as many other local men and a few women who lend a hand. The community is very proud of the results of their efforts and give them all a vote of thanks.

The building is a concrete block structure and has three bays for vehicles and a separate room lined with rough boards made from trees that had to be cut down on the property. This room is apparently for meetings and office space. The evening started out with the cutting of the ribbons on the three bays; the first one was cut jointly by Mayor of Lake of Bays, Malcolm Scott and Reeve of Sherbourne, Fred Baum; the middle ribbon was cut by MPP of Haliburton County, John Eakins and the third ribbon was cut by our own fire chief, Ron Payne. Stanhope Notes

by Alex Stevenson

Stanhope members of council are in substantial agreement on their evaluation of township council's efforts during the past two years, as indicated by their response to our questions re past actions, and proposals for the future of the township. When asked about the achievements through 1979-1980 we got the following answers.

Councilman Harry Davis was of the opinion that after some rough seas council was able to run a smooth operation. He was of the opinion that the council members had learned how to turn problems into opportunities for the betterment of the whole community. Among the highlights pointed to by councilman Davis were: developing the swimming area at Halls Lake, installing the tennis courts, improved roads throughout the municipality, efficient management of public funds, an improved budgetary system, settlement of controversial issues via the democratic process, making use of practical experience in dealing with various problems which were met. He also felt that the introduction of the citizen of the year award was a good move by council as a means of recognition of involved citizens.

Councilman Elvin Johnson felt that holding the mill rate to its present level was an achievement in view of the considerable amount of work done.

Deputy Reeve Stouffer stated that in the areas brought to their attention, council and staff had provided very adequate services at a reasonable cost. Reeve Jim Harrison included upgrading of the roads in the township, re-organization of the fire department, construction of the tennis courts, providing the swimming area at Halls Lake, and township input into the county resolution re the 66 foot allowance.

On the subject of the financial position of the township all were agreed that it was good in spite of inflationary pressures. The reeve was pleased that the township was still operating without any debenture debt. Deputy Reeve Stouffer was pleased with the financial picture and went on to state that "Thanks to excellent clerical staff, we are continuing to operate on a pay as you go basis." Going into the services provided by the township all were agreed that the library provided a beneficial service, fully meeting the needs of the township in the judgement of the deputy reeve, while councilman Johnson rated it the finest in the county. Reeve Harrison hoped the library would continue to provide the same excellent service to the township and found it a source of pride that he had, together with Mrs. Evelyn Gibson, initiated the project that finally resulted in the Thomas Welch Memorial Library in Stanhope.

The Airport Committee came in for much praise from the councilmen, for their untiring efforts on behalf of a township airport. All were of the opinion that the airport was an asset to the township, while Reeve Harrison stating that safety must be a prime concern at the same time calling for scrutiny when required, to prevent the facility from becoming a tax burden. Councilman Davis hoped the facility would remain as a community airport. The community centre hall was lauded as serving a serious need in the township. Deputy Reeve Stouffer described the hall as one of the highlights of the community, while councilman Johnson foresaw a need in the not too distant future for an addition to the hall. The reeve stated that the hall was carrying itself and should continue to do so.

Regarding fire protection all were pleased with the efforts of the fire department with councilman Johnson, chairman of the fire committee saying, "These boys are doing a good job and fair numbers are turning out to the practices." The reeve was very pleased with operation of the department. There was a hope expressed by some that a few interested and dedicated able-bodied citizens would be interested in becoming volunteer firemen, to provide personnel which would be available in the future as some of the older members find it necessary to curtail their activity.

On the subject of recreation all felt that good progress was made during the past two years. Reference was made to the very considerable use of the tennis courts enjoyed, and also to the time given by Councilman Johnson as Parks Chairman and also as a member of the recreation committee, to overseeing the work in clearing the new

Chatting with Irene

Well we got one nice day out of the holiday weekend even if it was a bit chilly. It is too bad that it had to be Monday that was nice, when everyone was going home. One thing about the weekend, we did not get the snow Saturday or Sunday nights but we sure had enough rain on Saturday to float a boat.

The town was crowded in the afternoon on Saturday and it was as much as your life was worth to drive around the main sections of town. I went to the library then and with a bit of cussin' and a few prayers managed to get there and back safely, but coming home I took to the back streets. I saw something none of our drivers would do I hope. A car tried to turn around in the street just on the other side of Northland Sales and I hit the top of the hill just at the right time; because it held up the traffic coming into town so I was able to get on the main thoroughfare quite easily, but it sure was one busy afternoon. Oh well, no more weekends like that until the hunters come to town.

Our Reeve, Since Nesbitt, spent a few days at the Halifax Exhibition last week. He was down there as a judge for the horse show.

The bake sale held by the library-culture centre group last Saturday morning was a great success with $112. being made towards the new building.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyne Cox of Ajax, visited in the village over the weekend.

Wintario has a new gimmick now. If you have the tickets and do not win the night of the draw, sign your ticket and drop it in a jar at one of the many outlets who are handling the tickets. If your name is drawn you win a free Wintario toque. Winners last week were Mae's Country Mart - Geo. Nesbitt, Stedman's - Mrs. Ethel Sinclair and Mike's Milk - Milt Sears, Brown Owl - Anne Kunkel. So save your ticket for the jar. Who knows, you might at least win a toque.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rivers and sons of Downsview visited in the village on the weekend.

I don't care what anyone says, the majority in this area like country and western music. This was proven last Saturday evening by the big crowd at the Octoberfest dance. The western and country music was provided by the "Northern Lights".

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bird and girls spent Thanksgiving Monday with the Alan Brydsons at Bracebridge.

Winners at last week's mini card party were: cribbage - Joyce Hewitt, Vera Ward; euchre - Lone hands, Shirley Elcome; Jeanne Sears, Teresa Cowan.

A politician is someone who is always there when "he" needs "you".

Mrs. Ern Hewitt had her three sons, Fred, Neil and Colin visiting with her over Thanksgiving.

On Saturday, October 18, Minden Figure Skating Club will again be holding their registration at Minden municipal office (upstairs) from 12 noon until 2:00 p.m. All boys and girls welcome. There will be a skate and costume exchange.

Anne Schell of Sudbury visited friends and relatives over the weekend.

I'm not a Phillie fan but they sure had to win the National League pennant the hard way so by the time you read this the world series will be underway or over. Who will win it, K.C. Royals or Phillies? One thing I dislike about T.V. is why do hockey, baseball and football all have to be on at the same time? Can't baseball get over before hockey starts?

Morgan Uptons of Downsview spent the weekend at their home in the village.

The young folk sure enjoyed Max Webster and the rock music Sunday evening at the arena.

The Milt Sears had part of their family home for Thanksgiving weekend as Muriel Ewing and sons, Sandra Sears and Rhonda and the Paul Warburtons and family all of Toronto visited with Milt and Jeanne.

Monday at 11 a.m. a number of interested persons gathered at the new library-culture centre site where Len Lonsberry of council drew the winning ticket for the painting on which tickets had been sold from before fair time until now. The winner was David Green of Ajax with ticket number 1324.

Do you like liver? I don't but this recipe is good. "Italian-style Liver and Macaroni" - 1 lb. beef liver, cut in 1" strips, 1/4 cup flour, 1 tsp. salt, 1/8 tsp. pepper, 1/4 cup salad oil, 1 tbsp. minced onion, 1 (16 oz.) can tomatoes, 1 tsp. oregano leaves, 1/2 of 8 oz. pkg. elbow macaroni (cooked). Mix flour, salt and pepper in plastic bag and coat liver with mixture. In large skillet over medium heat in hot oil, brown liver and onion. Stir in tomatoes and oregano leaves. Heat to boiling, add cooked macaroni, cover and simmer 10 minutes. Serve with tossed salad and canned pears. This makes six servings.

My husband and I went up to the Earl Birds on Sunday for Thanksgiving. There we had a lovely visit with the Lloyd Brownriggs of Scarborough and Mike and Laura Bird who were home from Peterborough and Toronto as well as Alan Brydson and Lesley Ann and Stephen from Bracebridge. Our daughter, Helen, couldn't come over as she is working shift work in Bracebridge Senior Citizens Home. On the way up we noticed how Saturday rain had dulled the colours of the trees, but took note of the While in Toronto last Saturday we stopped behind a young man waiting at a stoplight. When we missed the light, we checked him out and there he was, sound asleep with his chin on his chest. It must have been a long light!

We had a very nice weekend in the city and met a number of people. Our ex-guests, May and Bill Campbell, may be leaving for their home in Florida, October 14, on his birthday. A happy one is wished for you Bill.

While on the subject of birthdays: happy day and years to follow are wished for Alex Graham, October 16, Amy Coker, October 17, Jason Moss on October 19, Audrey Belanger, October 29 and Lori-Lynn Liscombe on Halloween, October 31.

Happy anniversary to Bill and Lorrie Moss on October 18.

A special "hi" to Ida Pandolfi, Kim Dowd, Paul-ette Whiteford and Lina Laboni at Aunet. You too Bonnie.

Helen and Alex, Elizabeth and Andy Graham were guests of Ida and Clyde Pardy of Cobocook on Sunday.

Mike McCluney has returned to Canadian Forces Base, Calgary, Alberta, October 5 after a very enjoyable two weeks vacation with his parents, Reg and Barb of Kinmount. This was Mike's first leave in seven months and he enjoyed his family and visits with his old chums very much.

Bill and I dropped by Helen and Alex Graham's house for a short visit on Tuesday evening and was sorry to find Alex sick in bed. Get well soon "Ag"!

Jack Pyke, Keith Stata, Jason Moss and Ida Pardy, are but a few of the local folks inflicted with colds and or flu recently. Hang in there gang. Better times are coming.

I hear that Gertrude and Dave Crichton of RRI, Cobocook, were involved in a car accident recently, in which Gertrude received a chest injury. We miss you at bingo Gertrude and Dave.

Stanhope Notes

from page 10 swimming area at Halls Lake. Councilman Davis believed the committee was being objective in planning for the future.

Stanhope's memorial cairn to the township pioneers is known to many township residents, yet not so well-known to others. Standing near the roadside on Boshkung Road, a short distance west of Highway #35, the cairn bears a plaque on which are the names of early residents who were buried in the nearby cemetery during the 1800's. While driving recently, on one of those wet days, we drove past the cairn almost missing it entirely (had we been strangers there is little doubt that it would not have been noticed.) Stopping, we returned to the site studied the surroundings and were not too impressed with this effort to honour the memory of those courageous, hard-working people. Perhaps it was the rather drizzly overcast day, or perhaps it was the growth of shrubbery, creeping ever closer to the cairn and threatening to hide it altogether, but from somewhere in our mind came the line "...forever lost in the mists of time". Stanhope residents should make it their concern that this tribute to the pioneer families will always be visible, as well as an inspiration to the future generations.

Another worthy project which is being pursued by township clerk, Gerald Bain, is that of restoration of the log chute at Hawk Lake. If Gerald's search for grants bears fruit the project will at some time in the future be carried out.

Re: the election for township council; it is difficult to believe that all who are intending to run have declared their wish to be supported at the polls. Of the known candidates, two have been frequent attendants at council meetings as well as participating in township activities. We would assume that anyone not having been visible by now would have only a minimal interest in township affairs, at least as they relate to township government. At township Council meeting Wednesday, October 10, the last before the election, the candidates for election to council who went to the trouble of showing an interest in councilmanic affairs, apart from the present members of council, were candidates Ann Barker and Dale MacDonald. Thus it may be assumed, from the interest and participation shown, that no one else will be contesting the councilmanic positions other than Elvin Johnson, Harry Davis, Dale MacDonald and Ann Barker. At the present one has indicated any interest in the two top positions other than the present incumbents. If others emerge it will be interesting to see how they explain their lack of interest in affairs in the council chamber, and their unwillingness to submit their candidacy to the light of public scrutiny in sufficient time to give the electors a lengthier opportunity to evaluate their usefulness to the township.

For those citizens who have been concerned with the 66-foot lakeshore allowance controversy, we can report that the subject came up at Township Council and the township clerk read out a letter received from the Ministry of Housing for Ontario. The gist of the ministry's letter was that the blanket by-law re allowances would require an accurate description of all the lands affected by the by-law, and that a survey description would be necessary for describing the lands for posting and advertising purposes. As the ministry says, the amount of shoreline in Stanhope would make the necessary survey work financially prohibitive. The ministry letter went on to say that the township should only consider blanket closure of original road allowances when it can be shown that no person will be deprived of an access to a body of water or his or her property.

Recently we mentioned that Bob Davis would be showing his slides acquired during his trip into Canada's far northland.

Councilman Harry Davis advises us that the date for the very interesting showing will be November 21 and that the show will be arranged so that there will be an intermission for coffee. We understand that there will be no admission charged, but donations to the Terry Fox fund will be accepted instead of an admission fee. A really worthy effort - and typical of young people like Bob Davis. The hoped-for report on the assessment impact study was not forthcoming at the recent council meeting due to the fact that it has not been completed by the Assessment Commission for this region. We are looking forward to this report to determine how reliable was the earlier predictions by the representatives of the Assessment Commission that the likely changes would be acceptable. The council showed their concern by insisting on an impact study before indicating any interest in acceptance of the provincially inspired proposal for equalized assessment. Eventually it will be imposed on the ratepayers, but not by his council if it imposes any unreasonable hardship on the average ratepayer.

No exercise. No running. No effort. No walking. Penalty - a shorter life. No argument.

blend. Beat eggs in deep bowl until thick and light coloured (about 5 minutes). Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat until light and fluffy. Add almond extract and beat well. Fold blended dry ingredients $\frac{1}{4}$ at a time into egg mixture. Add chopped almonds and hot milk all at once and mix quickly. Spread batter evenly in prepared pan. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool cake on wire rack. Run sharp knife around sides of pan to loosen cake. Shake out. Remove waxed paper. Split cooled cake in three layers. Prepare instant pudding with cold milk and almond extract. Let stand 5 minutes. Add drained pineapple and cherries. Fold $\frac{1}{2}$ cup whipped cream into pudding mixture. Spread pudding filling between layers. Frost cake with remaining whipped cream. Decorate with shaved chocolate, cherries and almonds. Chill at least 1 hour before serving. Dessert can be made in the morning for serving in the evening. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Tea and coffee stains on china cups may be removed by rubbing with a damp cloth dipped in baking soda.

A baby shower was held in honour of Kathleen Hartin, recently, in her own home at which some 60 to 65 people attended.

Arch bishop Garnsworthy took the service at St. James in Kinmount, on Sunday evening, October 5, and preached on love, of one another. The church has been newly painted and looks very nice and folks from other of our churches were most welcome at the special service.

"A Missions to the Seamen" Anglican minister, Fr. David Mulholland answered questions and showed slides of ships and places he'd been recently, at Fenelon Falls, the occasion being the Deanery meeting which was very successful. A pot luck dinner was served and a few of our people who attended were Helen Jones, Maggie Kyllie, Ruby Schell, Bertha Stata, Verlie Young, Georgina Young, Gladys Anderson, Joyce Hills and Laura Guant.

Elizabeth and Andy Graham of Northern Ireland and presently guests of Helen and Alex Graham of Norland have been seeing lots of our countryside and say "the Canadians are very kind people." They will be flying home Friday, October 10 after a month here, in our country. Bon voyage, Elizabeth and Andy.

Results of the euchre held at St. James Hall this week were: ladies' high, Nora Swinson; ladies' low, Eva Peacock; men's high, John Lonsdale; men's low, D. Williams and the lucky draw went to Paul Silvers. There were eight tables and I hear it was a lovely card party.

Roy and Anna Carr of Mount Albert were guests of Mary L. and John Pyke of Norland on Wednesday.

Helen and Alex Graham and their guests spent Wednesday at Orillia, visiting the home of Stephen Leacock.

A big welcome home to Win and Bill Wilson of RR1, Kinmount, from their trip to B.C. They have been visiting family for the past few weeks and had an enjoyable holiday. Win tells me they only saw three sunny days while there so "let's haul up our socks" and stop griping about our weather. It could be worse.

Glad to hear you're feeling better, Bill Stata.

Don't forget the Cameo Tube Painting party to be held at the home of Mrs.

Violet Denelko on Hwy. 503 at Furnace Falls, on Thursday, October 23 at 2 p.m. Your hostess will be Mrs. Violet Cook and you are all welcome.

Shelley Janke of Norland, D.B. was a breakfast guest of Helen and Alex Graham on Thursday.

I just said "good-bye" to Andy and Elizabeth Graham via Ma Bell and have been asked to relay a message: "To all the kind people who have seen to it that our holiday was so very nice, thank you. We have thoroughly enjoyed our trip and hope to see all of you again some day."

I hope all of you had a blessed Thanksgiving. We do have a lot to be thankful for.

Stay well and have a good day.

The following is a letter from Mrs. Sheran Watson, treasurer of the Burnt River and District Recreation Association:

The Burnt River and District Recreation Association is in the process of raising funds to build a community centre in Burnt River. The survey which was conducted in 1979 showed that as Burnt River is the most central location in the township, this would be the best location for a community centre to serve the residents in all parts of the township.

We certainly agree with one of the opinions in your column of September 17 which stated that the Kinmount community hall has seen lots of bazaars, bake sales, etc., but the Burnt River area has no such suitable facilities to hold dinners or events of this nature, especially during winter months and holding them in another town is not always feasible. Inconvenience is also a major factor.

There are many organizations who would benefit from such a centre - church groups, baseball and hockey teams to name a few.

An integral part of the centre is to be a regulation size gym. This would enable it to be used for teaching sports as well as dances, dinners, etc. The schools in the northern part of the county are without gymnasium facilities and thus the school children could benefit immensely from such a building.

It is our intention that this centre would serve the whole township and that it be used to its full potential by everyone.

As this project involves no tax dollars, we are dependent upon the generosity of private individuals, business and government grants, in addition to our own fund-raising efforts. When the canvasser calls on you in the future, ask him or her, how you, as a resident of Somerville Township can enjoy the centre when it is in operation.

Beautify your neighbourhood. Get out on the street. Take a walk.

these activities a barbecued beef dinner was served to about 100 guests after which there were speeches by the various dignitaries, and Mr. Eakins presented plaques to the ex fire chiefs as well as some members of long standing. The Dorset Girl Guides presented the firemen with two cakes, the one was a replica of the new fire hall and since there was no space for writing on it they made another square cake, decorated with Congratulations, Dorset Volunteers. The Brownies made very attractive napkin rings and the Pathfinders supplied lovely, colorful centre pieces for the tables. The evening ended up with a dance. On behalf of all the guests we would like to thank the ladies who went to so much work to provide such a sumptuous meal.

The leaves seemed to be slow in turning color this year and then all of a sudden there they were in all their brilliance. Every year it seems as though they are more gorgeous than the last. The wind and the rain is taking its toll and the leaves are fast coming down. We regret this as autumn is so beautiful and it is so bleak after the trees are bare. But nature has to take its course, I guess.

We welcome home Mrs. Rhoda Taylor who lives at Paint Lake and has been a patient in Huntsville hospital. This lady has had her share of problems and we wish her a quick return to good health.

The Anglican ladies will be holding a rummage sale during the last week in October, date will appear next week just in time to get your Hallowe'en costume. If you have anything to donate please call 766-2237 or any of the Anglican ladies.

H.H. If you have a white stain on your furniture from water or alcohol just rub in any toothpaste with a soft cloth and wipe it clean. The color will come right back.

Correction: The cake presented by the Guides was donated by Ev and Nick Rutledge and decorated by the Guides.

West Guilford News

The bi-annual election meeting for the West Guilford Recreation Centre was held Thursday evening, October 24. The attendance was good, thus attracting some new members to the various committees. The results were as follows: President - Carol Duncan; 1st Vice President - Bert Cowan; 2nd Vice President - Perry Morrison; secretary - Sue Ripley; treasurer - Grenville Barry; social convener - Carol Stamp; ladies auxiliary - Arlene Edwards; bingo committee - Valerie Chumbley; Linda Morrison; Marjorie Nicholls; Dance Committee - Wes and Mary Jackson, Brian and Elsie Henderson, Charlie and Eileen Heard, Grenville Stamp; maintenance - Ken Sawyer; housekeeping - Ray and May Cooper; bookings - Valerie Chumbley; Golden Age Club - Ev Stata; raffles - Carol Stamp; playschool - Delaine Sawyer; snowmobile club - Eric Edwards, Ray Cooper.

The previous committee would like to say thank you for the support they have received and they hope everyone will continue to give the new committee members all the help they will need. A new fund-raising drive was discussed for further renovations and completion of the centre. Last June the new dance hall was completed. This was officially opened by John Eakins and Murray Fearrey and to both these gentlemen we extend our sincere thanks for their assistance in obtaining a Wintario grant for this work. The centre is available for any community activity and new ideas are always welcome. A pot luck lunch will be held the second Tuesday each month at 12:30 p.m., with cards, etc. after lunch. For transportation or further information please call Mrs. E. Stata at 754-2204.

An exercise or keep fit class may appeal to some of you ladies. May we have your comments please. 754-2168. The bingo games are held every Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The attendance has steadily increased thanks to the efforts of Mrs. Peggy Whitney and Mr. Ray

Jenkins. Thank you both. Profits from the bingo are funnelled back into the recreation centre. Please come and support your community. A collection of antique library books has accumulated over the years. Would someone be prepared to look after the library please? A supper has been proposed for Ward 3 (West Guilford - Eagle Lake area) couples married 50 years or more. Kindly phone this information from page 16

Bailey Bridge being built at Hart Lodge, and the log home being built at Carnarvon so enjoyed the drive.

Ron Welch of Frankford spent Thanksgiving with his mother, Mrs. Edith Welch. Mrs. Johann Beattie was at her home in the village for the weekend after spending last weekend in Toronto with relatives.

On Saturday afternoon the button jar at the library was opened by Carol Emmerson in the presence of the librarian Jeanne Sears, and Mrs. Wm. Moore. The number of buttons in the jar had been put in at the top before the lid was sealed on and there were 890 buttons in the jar so the winner of two donated Cash for Life tickets was Mrs. Barry Connelly whose guess was 891 buttons. How close can you guess? A lot of fun came from this guessing game as one watched people shake the jar and turn it around and upside down, etc. The children enjoyed this game very much. Maybe something else that would prove interesting to the children who use the library could be done over the winter! The guesses were each 25 cents and raised $21. towards the new library.

Mrs. Ethel Harrison has been visiting with Miss M. Dawkins and Mr. and Mrs. Lorne McCallum in Lindsay and received a lovely Thanksgiving gift when Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCallum had their son last Thursday. Congratulations to great Aunt Ethel and Grandma and Grandpa McCallum, and, of course, the parents.

Conditions are never just right. People who delay action until all factors are favourable are the kind who do nothing. Imagine my surprise upon opening last week's paper and seeing the choir of 36 in the pic of the past. How long ago that seems!

The Minden and District Horticultural Society held their October meeting at the municipal building last week with Rev. Amos Brubacher presiding. After the usual business was attended to and the treasurer had reported on the finances especially those regarding the flower show, the president asked Mrs. W. Moore past secretary-treasurer to introduce Mr. Gomme the secretary of the Ontario Horticultural Societies.

Mr. Gomme interspersed his talk with a number of amusing anecdotes after congratulating the society on their efforts with the river side flower beds. He mentioned that there were 18 districts in Ontario and 259 societies in those districts. He had a number of booklets and leaflets that can be made available for those interested through the society.

One detail he emphasized was dig your bulbs in early October, and transplant all trees except evergreens at the same time. Evergreens should be done in September. After a question and answer period Mr. Gomme showed some beautiful coloured slides. He was thanked by past president Mrs. Wm. Carrell and presented with a painting from the society.

Another highlight was when Mrs. J. Luke presented Mrs. Brian Sisson with a gift from the society for Megan. When opened there was a lovely blanket inside and pinned to it were 24 $1.00 bills. After Susan thanked the society the meeting was closed and everyone enjoyed the social time.

Adios and take care now.

THANK YOU
We would like to thank everyone who helped in the search for Grenville. There are many people who worked very hard under poor weather conditions, and it is very difficult to single out the many people who participated in the search.
Special thanks to Jim Solway of the OPP, who organized the search from beginning to end and refused to give up until he was found. The turnout of local people, OPP, Ministry of Natural Resources and the men and women of the Haliburton Lake Cottagers Association was tremendous. Your help and kindness will never be forgotten.

Thanks also to all the churches and prayer groups of Haliburton who offered prayers that Gren might be found.
A very special "thank you" to the Reverend John Smith, Dr. Harry Good, Mr. and Mrs. Monk, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Devolin for their unflinching support.
A most particular "thank you" to our dear friend, Florence Johnston, who, by her continued support by day and night, kept our hopes and beliefs sustained.
Let us not forget the ladies of the U.C.V. who served a delicious lunch after the funeral.
Gratefully,
Ena, Ed, Pat, Jeff and Todd Dart

Monmouth council meets in October

Monmouth council, at its October meeting, considered the following matters:

General accounts of $52,794.25; welfare payroll of $1,857.00; O.H.R.P. voucher of $4,437.41; and road accounts of $4,315.34 were approved for payment.

Council will petition for interim payment under the Public Transportation and Highway Improvement Act on expenditures made in the year 1980.

Bishop and Wilson were hired to complete a water lot survey as per their proposal in letter dated September 24, 1980.

Council appointed Dave Barras as acting road superintendent as of September 18, 1980 and he will be paid the road superintendent's rate.

Howard Ackley was granted trapping rights on the old C.N.R. right-of-way from Otter Creek to the Old Haliburton Crossing.

Lloyd Baren was paid $300 for four ewes and $60 for one lamb alleged to have been killed by wolves. Larry navigation range, not far from the historical average for this time of year.

With the end of navigation season next Wednesday, October 15, reconstruction of the guard gate upstream of Kirkfield Lock can begin. This gate is used to separate Mitchell Lake from Balsam Lake (all one level for navigation) so that they can be drawn down at different times. This has been found to reduce the likelihood of fish kills on Mitchell Lake. The construction crew should be finished the concrete restoration at Glamour Lake in time to do this next.

Gooderham News

by Mary Hadley

Mr. and Mrs. Moe Woods (nee Margaret Falconer) and Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Oshawa were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Claribel Sheehan.

Last Friday was the culmination of several days of preparation at the Gooderham Elementary School. To teach about the first Thanksgiving, the teachers and students had a Thanksgiving dinner in the school with guests being all the mothers of the children. Preparation included the kindergarten children making cranberry sauce while grades one and two made cookies shaped like turkeys. On Friday each grade was responsible for some phase of the dinner such as grade three cooking the potatoes, grades one and two the carrots and kindergarten making the punch. Two mothers cooked the turkeys. Pilgrim and Indian hats were worn, having been created in art classes. Even make-up was applied to show the difference in skin coloring of Indians and Pilgrims who both attended the first Thanksgiving feast. I'm sure the meal was delicious and that the children will have had a history lesson, the details of which will be so vivid that they will not soon be forgotten. Hats off to the teachers who make learning so vital and interesting.

Holiday visitors of Mrs. Nora Carey were: Becky and Ab McGarity of Apsley, Gloria and Don Aldred of Peterborough, Doris King and children, Perry and Lori of Oshawa.

Sorry to hear that Lionel King is in hospital and so unable to join the family group.

Guests for the holiday weekend of Mrs. Ruby Maxwell included Marion and George Maxwell and two sons of Toronto, Gracie Maxwell of St. Catharines, Birdie and Larry McGahey with their family Cindy Joan and Larry Jr. of Barrie.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kendall with Laura and Robbie, spent the weekend with Ruth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Barr, as well as with Tom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kendall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hunter spent the weekend in Oshawa as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hunter. They attended the christening of their new grandson, Lorne, on Sunday.

The township council and the road department can be congratulated on rebuilding the bridge by Pine Lake dam. The new plank flooring, as well as the sides which give one a sense of security while admiring the fascinating waterfall, do much to enhance this lakeshore route.
